

IAN SCOTT ANDERMAN WINS 100% OF LOCAL LODGE ENDORSEMENT VOTES, AS DORA CERVANTES RECEIVES HISTORIC REJECTION

Last night, 13 IAM Local Lodges around the United States conducted their local membership votes to determine which candidate their lodge would officially nominate and endorse for the position of Grand Lodge Secretary Treasurer (GST). At every local lodge Ian Scott-Anderman won. This is the first time in the history of the IAM that that a challenger to an IAM Executive Council position has won every local lodge endorsement vote, and so many total local lodge endorsements.

“I would like to thank every IAM member who participated in our democratic process,” said Ms. Scott-Anderman. “Change is coming to the GST’s office. Integrity will be restored. With your support we will end the corruption, mismanagement and unprofessionalism that has stained our union under Ms. Cervantes’ tenure.”

The local lodge “run-off” votes that were held yesterday took place at IAM local lodges around the country that nominated both Sister Ian Scott-Anderman and current GST Dora Cervantes. Sister Scott-Anderman has received more than triple the necessary IAM local lodge nominations necessary to be on the ballot for the April general election.

“With almost 20 years as a financial officer at the local and district levels in our great union, I will be ready on day one,” continued Scott-Anderman.
